

I am writing on behalf of Miss Lynn Hickernell, who has been a regular performer for the Knox County Public Library System for several years. She performs at our annual Children's Festival of Reading each May, as well as our ongoing Saturday Stories and Songs series. We cannot recommend her highly enough!

Miss Lynn is the quintessential children's performer: charismatic, inspiring and entertaining. Her love of words and music and her passion for education combine to make a performance that is truly special. She writes songs with which children easily relate and her audiences can't help but sing and dance along -- and they're learning, too! If you are looking for someone who can really connect with children and engage them with entertaining and educational content, Miss Lynn is your woman. She is also extremely reliable and pleasant to work with.

Please do let me know if you have any questions.

Warmest wishes,

Casey Fox
Library Fund Development Officer
Knox County Public Library
500 W. Church Avenue
Knoxville, TN 37902
865.215.8713
cfox@knoxlib.org