

Overdrive App on NOOK

- 1. Download the App
- 2. Open the App
- 3. Go to App settings and either enter your Adobe ID and password (email and password for Adobe) or tap on “Get a free Adobe ID”

To get to App settings, tap on the small symbol on the bottom right of the NOOK screen that looks like a circle with three lines in the middle. This will bring up a menu at the bottom of the screen, and the one on the bottom left corner is “App Settings.”
- 4. Once you fill in the Adobe ID and password, tap “Authorize,” then go back to the main screen by tapping on the back arrow on the bottom of the screen
- 5. Open the menu at the bottom of the screen again and tap “Get Books”

At this point, your screen will say “Your ‘Get Books’ list is empty” so you want to tap on the bar at the bottom of the screen that says “Add a Library”
- 6. Follow the prompts to find your library (enter zip code first)
- 7. When you see the list of libraries, select your library. This will open up your library’s “details”

Tap on the grey star to add your library to your preferred library list. In the future, your library will now appear on the “Get Books” list.
- 8. After you tap the star, tap on the bold print that says, “Digital Downloads”

This will open up your NOOK’s web browser and take you to your library’s web page.
- 9. Tap where it says “sign in” on the web page

After you tap on “sign in” it will take you to a page where you have to select your library, then it will take you to a page where you have to enter your library card number.
- 10. Now you can search for library books to download onto your NOOK. If you already have electronic library books checked out, go to “My Bookshelf” and tap “download” on the titles you want to put on your NOOK

Please note that when you select a library book it needs to be a PDF or an EPUB ebook, NOT a Kindle Book. When you add it to your cart you can checkout now or keep looking for more titles. After you check out you will see which books you now have, and next to each one will be a button that says “download” for you to tap.
- 11. After you tap “download” your NOOK will automatically take you back to the Overdrive App and you will see the book on your bookshelf.
- 12. Congratulations!! You have successfully downloaded a library book using the Overdrive App! Happy reading!
